Camp Five – The Great Outdoors (July 29 - Aug.2): This camp is about exploring and appreciating the wonderful world around us. Students will spend their days immersed in nature, learning about the plants and animals that inhabit our planet. They will get creative with natural materials and discover the joys of learning outside the traditional classroom setting.

Students will spend the week learning about their favorite prehistoric creatures and engaging in various educational activities that will spark their curiosity and imagination. From dinosaur feet artwork to creating their own fossils out of salt dough, they will be busy learning and developing an understanding of these fascinating creatures. They will learn about carnivores and herbivores and explore how each survived. It'll be a roaring good time!

Camp Eight – Let's go to China! (August 19 - 23): The Chinese language and Culture camp is designed for a beginner's level. It is a stimulating introduction to the culture and language of China. The instructor will pack every day of the program with Mandarin teaching, Chinese Culture exposure, and arts/crafts activities that represent Chinese cultural elements. It's an excellent opportunity for kids to taste the Chinese culture and learn Mandarin Chinese.
